1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to methods of recording and playback information, and apparatus therefor. 2. Description of the Related Art Among optical discs or optical information recording media, Compact Discs (CDs) are very popular. CDs were developed as music carriers, and are now also used as stationary magnetic optical information recording media. In addition, DVDs (Digital Versatile Discs), which are higher in recording density than CDs, are used as recording media for computers. Further, there are also still memories such as the
